Dear David,

I hope you are well. I am writing to confirm my March 2020 email correspondence to Turley, and I will forward these emails separately in a moment. The premise for these emails (written from my personal email address) was to request a conversation with them about the masterplan, and in particular raising the potential availability of the Bowles land.

I believe the key phrase from my March 2020 emails is "we would be interested to discuss with you whether or not there is a useful role we might still play in the current proposals, and whether or not we may be able to help unlock general issues across the combined site by - for example - providing additional space for village-focused amenities, environmental mitigation purposes etc".

You will note that the email was forwarded on from Peter Lawson to David Murray Cox, and I followed-up with an email saying that I looked forward to hearing from David Murray Cox when he had a moment. To my knowledge no response was forthcoming.

Further to this you will already be aware that in my representation of the 10th March 2021 (almost exactly a year after my email to Turley) I again stated that the Bowles land was available and the Bowles family wanted to be included - "if any masterplan review were forthcoming they would very much hope to be fully involved in order to ensure a successful, comprehensive and deliverable development, and in order to fulfil Wiltshire Policy H2.2".

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] I therefore got in touch personally with Turley to discuss the availability of the Bowles land for mitigation etc as outlined above and in the email chain attached.

The situation remains that the Bowles family are open to discussions about the role their land may play in the masterplan, and furthermore they would like to be involved to enable the successful implementation of Wiltshire Policy H2.2.

If any of this information is relevant do please publish it (with some redactions for privacy purposes) as a representation on behalf of the Bowles land.

Many thanks, and kind regards.

Anthony Bowles
