With regards to changes to the building, the application is retrospective and based on the drawings provided.

The existing floor slab was retained but other operational works which are reasonably necessary included the following:

* New exterior walls and cladding
* Interior dividing walls
* New windows and door