Biodiversity net gain

Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 sets out that every planning permission granted for the development of land in England shall be deemed to have been granted subject to the 'biodiversity gain condition' requiring development to achieve a net gain of 10% of biodiversity value.

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

We have concerns about the plans which I do not believe will be rectifiable through amendments.

The scale of the proposed extension is not considered subservient to the main dwellinghouse, which is currently a visually attractive building which offers some heritage value. The existing building currently holds a good amount of symmetry/balance with the adjoining property, and the proposed side extension would see a complete loss to this balance. It would not be considered to be a subservient addition to what is currently an attractive property; being notably wide compared to the existing building and the ground floor not being set back behind the front elevation at all, with a different material pallet which would compete with the existing traditional materials of the building and a modern style of window on the ground floor which appears at odds with the traditional style of the existing building, which is particularly troublesome for a front elevation.

I don't see any way a side extension could be achieved here without compromising the appearance of the property as a whole, as there is already what appears to be a side extension which is particularly narrow. Therefore, unless the side extension was perhaps single storey and set back from the front elevation, I don't foresee any way a side extension would appear subservient and harmonious with the existing property. Although this is not to say a single storey side extension would definitely be considered acceptable.

Therefore, we are currently looking at refusing the plans and I do not intend on accepting any revisions to the scheme – if you would like to withdraw the application rather than receive a refusal, please let me know by Wednesday next week.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.

Do any of the above statements apply?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No

Ownership Certificates and Agricultural Land Declaration

Certificates under Article 14 - Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015 (as amended)

Please answer the following questions to determine which Certificate of Ownership you need to complete: A, B, C or D.

Is the applicant the sole owner of all the land to which this application relates; and has the applicant been the sole owner for more than 21 days?

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No

Is any of the land to which the application relates part of an Agricultural Holding?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No

Certificate Of Ownership - Certificate A

I certify/The applicant certifies that on the day 21 days before the date of this application nobody except myself/ the applicant was the owner* of any part of the land or building to which the application relates, and that none of the land to which the application relates is, or is part of, an agricultural holding

* "owner" is a person with a freehold interest or leasehold interest with at least 7 years left to run.

 "agricultural holding" has the meaning given by reference to the definition of “agricultural tenant” in section 65(8) of the Act.

NOTE: You should sign Certificate B, C or D, as appropriate, if you are the sole owner of the land or building to which the application relates but the land is, or is part of, an agricultural holding.
