Description

Please describe details of the proposed development or works including any change of use

We are seeking planning permission to replace the existing single-glazed timber-framed windows with double-glazed uPVC units. The proposed windows will closely replicate the original design in terms of appearance, including frame shape, colour, and the division of glazing panes, to ensure continuity with the character of the property and surrounding buildings.

While there will be minor changes to the opening mechanisms for improved functionality and energy efficiency, these alterations will not affect the external appearance of the windows. The upgrade to double glazing is intended to enhance thermal performance and reduce energy consumption.

This work will be carried out by White Oak, a reputable window installation company, with whom we have obtained a full quotation and are ready to proceed pending planning approval. It is worth noting that several neighbouring properties have already undertaken similar improvements using uPVC double-glazed windows.

There is no proposed change of use associated with this application.

Has the work or change of use already started?

- ☐ Yes
☒ No

Existing Use

The site, known as The Willows, is currently in use as a residential care home for adults with learning disabilities and complex needs, including behaviours that may challenge, autism, and other associated conditions. The property functions as a full-time residence for the individuals we support and includes essential facilities to meet their daily living and care requirements.

In addition to the residential accommodation, the site contains office space used by care staff and management, enabling the effective delivery of support services. The use of the site is entirely residential in nature, with care provision integral to its operation.

Biodiversity net gain

Biodiversity net gain is a legal requirement for planning permission introduced on 12 February 2024. All applications are required to either provide detailed information proving there will be a biodiversity increase; or explain why the requirement does not apply to the development.

Do you believe that, if the development is granted permission, the general Biodiversity Gain Condition (as set out in Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 \(as amended\)) would apply?

☐ Yes

☒ No

Biodiversity net gain has been introduced as a general condition for planning permission. As set out in The Environment Act 2021: "grants of planning permission in England [are] to be subject to a condition to secure that the biodiversity gain objective is met". Therefore, in England, all planning permissions are generally subject to biodiversity gain rules, unless they are specifically exempt or out of scope.

If you have stated that the biodiversity net gain requirement does not apply to your application you must provide the reason(s) why, and may also need to supply evidence (especially where you believe the application is eligible for the 'de minimis' exemption).

Please add all the reasons why biodiversity net gain does not apply and enter a justification for each one

Reason biodiversity net gain does not apply:

Development subject to the de minimis exemption (development below the threshold)

What best describes the size of your site?:

Under 25 square metres

Please justify the reason why biodiversity net gain does not apply:

The application is exempt from the general Biodiversity Gain Condition as it impacts less than 25m2 of habitat

Note: Please read the help text for further information why developments may be exempt or not in scope.

Details of the pre-application advice received

30 July 2025 Dear Sir/Madam

Thank you for your enquiry, which we received on 30 July 2025. From the information you've provided, it looks like you're planning to Window upgrade to UPVC at THE WILLOWS, 72 BOREHAM ROAD, WARMINSTER, BA12 9JN.

You've indicated that you're hoping to carry out the work using your permitted development rights. These are rights that allow certain types of home improvements or changes without needing to apply for full planning permission. They are set out in national legislation known as the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) (England) Order 2015 (as amended).

As The Willows is a residential care home, it does not benefit from permitted development rights for developments such as replacement windows. Based on this, it appears that your proposal does not fall within the scope of what's allowed under permitted development.

This means that planning permission is required for your proposal.

When planning permission is required, it does not necessarily mean that your proposal is unacceptable. Rather, it means that formal consent is needed to allow the Local Planning Authority (LPA) to assess the proposal in detail. This process ensures that the development is appropriate and in line with both local and national planning policies, taking into account factors such as design, impact on neighbours, and the character of the area.

If you need to submit a planning application, you can do so online via the Planning Portal, which provides guidance and access to the necessary forms:

Yours faithfully
