I, Mrs Peggotty Livingstone-Learmonth, being over 18 years of age and residing at the aforesaid address, do hereby solemnly and sincerely declare as follows:

1. I am making this Declaration in relation to the dwelling known as Dairy Cottage, which is within my ownership and shown upon the attached Map Scale 1:1250. Identified as Building A on OS 2512-01

Exhibit No. 1 – OS 2512-01

2. For context, I will set out some of the history of the property insofar as it is known to me.
3. Sales Particulars from the 1960s describe the property known as Park Farm as comprising 356 acres of land, 4 dwellings and various outbuildings. In 1963 the property was purchased by a Mr Jackson who undertook extensive renovations to Park Farm dwelling to turn it into a gentleman's residence. Identified as Building B on OS 2512-01.
4. Some four years later in 1967, Mr Jackson sold the property in Lots. Land was sold off, Upper Farm buildings were sold separately and Mr and Mrs Livingstone-Learmonth Senior purchased Park Farm dwellinghouse, a neighbouring courtyard of outbuildings/stables and approximately 4 to 5 acres of land going down to the River Avon on the North side of Park Farm.
5. A breeze block wall was erected between Upper Farm buildings, purchased and owned by Mr Godwin, and the courtyard of outbuildings/stables purchased and owned by the Livingstone-Learmonths. Highlighted in yellow on OS 2512-01.

Initials PL-L

6. In circa 1970, Mr Godwin obtained planning permission to convert one of the buildings forming part of Upper Farm into a dwelling. This dwelling is not subject to any occupancy conditions. Building C on OS 2512-01.
7. Mr and Mrs Livingstone-Learmonth Senior occupied Park Farm dwelling and their son, Somerville, occupied a bungalow nearby. When his father died, Somerville moved into Park Farm and his mother moved to the nearby bungalow.
8. Somerville and I were married in 1995 and I then moved into Park Farm with him.
9. I kept horses, as did my husband who was a professional polo player. In 1998 we sought planning permission to convert part of one of the disused buildings in the neighbouring stable block courtyard (a former dairy) into a dwelling for a Groom. The planning permission for this dwelling is not subject to any occupancy conditions. This dwelling has already been identified as Building A on OS 2512-01.
10. Prior to the planning permission being issued, my husband entered into a Section 106 Agreement with the Council. For reasons I do not recall, the Agreement sought to avoid the residential accommodation, which was to be approved through Planning Permission 98/022279/FUL, from becoming a separate dwelling – albeit that to my mind a separate dwelling was, unavoidably, being approved and created.

11. After the grant of planning permission in July 1999, the approved section of the building was converted and residential accommodation was created. This dwelling has been known as Dairy Cottage since its completion.
12. In May 2003, Somervilled died and I inherited Park Farm and the neighbouring courtyard of buildings/stables, including Dairy Cottage.
13. I subsequently purchased Upper Farm dwelling, which I Let out on the open market along with an Atcost Barn which has been used by the Tenants for equestrian purposes.
14. Returning to the use and occupation of Dairy Cottage, I will describe the residential accommodation and set out how it has been occupied.
15. Since conversion, the building known as Dairy Cottage has contained all things required for day to day living and has been used and occupied as a separate and independent home by all those who have lived there.
16. The house is set within a courtyard of outbuildings, primarily stables, adjacent to the remaining section of the building which did not form part of the conversion, which remains unused and essentially redundant.
17. Dairy Cottage and the outbuildings have their own vehicular access off of the public highway.

Initials PL-L

18. Dairy Cottage has allocated parking spaces and a covered 'garage' space within the courtyard stable block, as well as a fenced off private garden to the rear.
19. Dairy Cottage is accessed via a front door into an Entrance way leading to a Kitchen/Diner and a Living Room. Off the living space is a bedroom and a bathroom.
20. Dairy Cottage has been registered for Council Tax since completion in late 1999 and falls within Band A.
21. Dairy Cottage is a separately registered postal address, although it took me a long time to commence this process and for it to complete.
22. Dairy Cottage has its own, separate, Septic Tank.
23. Electricity is connected to Dairy Cottage via Park Farm and has a separate sub-meter.
24. Water is connected to Dairy Cottage via Park Farm.
25. Previous occupiers of Dairy Cottage have installed their own Landline however, with reliance upon mobile phones, the current Tenant does not have one. Occupiers organise their own Internet Service and are responsible for holding their own TV Licence.

Initials PL-L

26. Dairy Cottage has been occupied from its completion in late 1999 to the present day. No one who has occupied Dairy Cottage has had any reliance upon Park Farm dwellinghouse, from which it is wholly removed and entirely separate.
27. Initially Dairy Cottage was occupied by Grooms whom I employed full-time or part-time. Whilst the Cottage formed part of their employment package, they lived within it entirely separately and independently, with no reliance upon Park Farm dwellinghouse for their day to day needs.
28. In 2015 I sustained serious injuries as a result of a riding accident. Following this, all of my horses were either sold or re-homed. Thereafter, I no longer had need for a Groom.
29. At this point in time, Dairy Cottage was occupied by Louise Botham. Louise had moved in during 2009 and had worked for me as a Part-Time Groom.
30. Following my accident and the absence of horses, all of Louise's employment became 'off site' and as a consequence, the financial arrangements between us changed.
31. This happened over a period of time as we both adjusted to the changed circumstances. By 2018 Louise paid me monthly Rent for Dairy Cottage, which included payments to cover Council Tax and Water Charges. Louise made separate payments to me to cover her use of electricity in the Cottage, which I calculated via the sub-meter readings.

Initials PL-L

32. This arrangement with Louise continued until 2024 when she moved out. Shortly thereafter my current Tenant, Toby Pickthall, moved in. Toby and I have the same arrangements in place for payments regarding Rent, Council Tax, Water Charges and Electricity.

33. To my mind, Dairy Cottage has always been used as a separate and independent dwelling, with no reliance upon Park Farm. Aside from wishing to live entirely separately from my Grooms/Tenants, the two dwellings are physically separate from one another. With no direct access between the two dwellings, reliance by Dairy Cottage upon Park Farm for meeting ones day to day needs is not realistically achievable.

I, Mrs P Livingstone-Learmonth, hereby confirm that the information supplied and the version of events set out herein are correct as a matter of fact and degree and I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the provisions of the Statutory Declarations Act 1835.
