Heritage Site Visit Summary

On 19 August 2025, a site visit was undertaken by Patrick Mayer, accompanied by colleagues Stephen Tester and Hannah Webster. The purpose of the visit was to support the production of a Preliminary Ecological Assessment (PEA), to inform a tree survey for the development of a tree protection plan, and to provide information to support future heritage assessments of works that may be required at Turners Paddock. The weather conditions on the day were warm and dry. The team was accompanied on site by Nigel Hellier of the National Trust.

The visit commenced at Garden Lake, where the location of the temporary works was viewed. This included the access route, the compound area, and surrounding features of the registered Park and Garden for the proposed remedial works. Photographs were taken to record the existing condition of these areas and to provide supporting material for ecological, arboricultural, and heritage assessments.

Following completion of the work at Garden Lake, the team visited Turners Paddock. Access was gained by walking down High Street and approaching the embankment from the lane to the east. Photographs were taken to provide a visual record of the site, with particular focus on the relationship between Turners Paddock and the main Park and Garden.

The site visit concluded with additional photographs taken from the north of Garden Lake, looking towards Turners Paddock. These views document the visual relationship between the two areas and provide further context for subsequent assessment work.

All photographs taken during the visit by Patrick Mayer are included in Appendix A below as a contact sheet.
