Description

Please describe details of the proposed development or works including any change of use

I was advised I needed planning consent to do childminding in the house. I paid for the "pre-planning" service with Wiltshire Council.

I plan to do childminding in the house for some of the time but it will primarily be my home and residential residence most of the week. Most of the time it will not have other children in the house. Because of ratios, I will need adults assisting me.

Monday to Thursday 3.30pm to 5.30pm (2 hours each day): 12 children, 3 adults (no childminding from 5.30pm Thursday until Monday 3.30pm)

Tuesday to Thursday 7.30am to 8.30am (1hour): 6 children, 2 adults

Tuesday to Thursday 9.30am to 2.30pm (5 hours): 12 children, 4 adults

I think it should be noted that previous two child minders have operated in the street with 6 children each and they no longer do. Therefore, there would be no difference to me operating with this number as to what has previously operated on the street before. Additionally, there is more than enough street parking around the green and along the street with many spaces always available. I have spoken to neighbours immediately either side and others in the street and they see no issue with the idea.

Biodiversity net gain

Biodiversity net gain is a legal requirement for planning permission introduced on 12 February 2024. All applications are required to either provide detailed information proving there will be a biodiversity increase; or explain why the requirement does not apply to the development.

Do you believe that, if the development is granted permission, the general Biodiversity Gain Condition (as set out in Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 \(as amended\)) would apply?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No

Biodiversity net gain has been introduced as a general condition for planning permission. As set out in The Environment Act 2021: "grants of planning permission in England [are] to be subject to a condition to secure that the biodiversity gain objective is met". Therefore, in England, all planning permissions are generally subject to biodiversity gain rules, unless they are specifically exempt or out of scope.

If you have stated that the biodiversity net gain requirement does not apply to your application you must provide the reason(s) why, and may also need to supply evidence (especially where you believe the application is eligible for the 'de minimis' exemption).

Please add all the reasons why biodiversity net gain does not apply and enter a justification for each one

Reason biodiversity net gain does not apply:

Development subject to the de minimis exemption (development below the threshold)

What best describes the size of your site?:

Under 25 square metres

Please justify the reason why biodiversity net gain does not apply:

I am applying to be a childminder so there is no size relevance a part from having enough space for the children.

Note: Please read the help text for further information why developments may be exempt or not in scope.

Details of the pre-application advice received

From the information provided, in my informal opinion, Full planning permission would be required for change of use. This is because additional people would be attending the property on a Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and this would be more than expected from a residential property. This could have a detrimental impact on neighbours with regards to comings and goings and noise disturbance generated from additional persons at the property on these days, plus the dropping off and collection of the children.

As such, planning permission would be required before proceeding with the proposed works.

When planning permission is required, it does not necessarily mean that your proposal is unacceptable. Rather, it means that formal consent is needed to allow the Local Planning Authority (LPA) to assess the proposal in detail. This process ensures that the development is appropriate and in line with both local and national planning policies, taking into account factors such as design, impact on neighbours, and the character of the area.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
