

A large, detailed architectural drawing of a building facade, showing a grid of windows and a central entrance area. The drawing is rendered in a technical, line-art style with a light gray background. The facade is composed of a grid of rectangular windows, with a central section that appears to be a recessed entrance or a different material. The drawing is oriented horizontally, with the building's width extending across the frame. The style is minimalist, using black lines on a light gray background to define the architectural elements. The overall impression is one of a modern, functional building design.
