

[illegible]

A hand-drawn floor plan of a building. At the top, there is a red rectangular area. Below it, the main building is outlined in black. On the left side, there is a blue hatched area containing two rooms labeled 12 and 13. Room 12 is above room 13. A red line runs along the top of room 13. To the right of the blue area, there are several rooms and corridors. Arrows indicate the flow of movement: some point downwards, some upwards, and some inwards. The plan is enclosed in a hand-drawn outline.
