We are so frustrated that enforcement don't enforce for 6 months we were severely sleep deprived by them illegally operating all night. My smart watch was averaging 4 to 5 hours sleep a night which has been very detrimental to my health. Over the last month its been quieter suddenly i am sleeping 7 to 8 hours,
But there is still noise at night, there was a lorry being unloaded last night at midnight! And we still hear a forklift operating early morning. I guess some businesses are always going to bend the rules,

Our home predates roebridge foods, if they have out grown their premises its time for them to move to an industrial premises with 24 operation. many of their delivery lorries currently drive up and down brickworth road looking for their premises causing a nuisance as they try and turn, many drive through the very narrow village, we have to close gates early to avoid lorries barging up our drive. They can submit as many sound surveys as they like they like, its not the just the considerable outside noise its the vibrations from the sound frequency, we feel it through our bedroom floor and pillows.
