The figure is a detailed site plan of an existing building and its surroundings. The building is a large, rectangular structure with a complex internal layout, including several smaller rooms and a central courtyard area. The building's footprint is outlined in black, and its internal walls and partitions are shown with fine lines. A red boundary line encloses the entire site, including the building and the surrounding open space. To the right of the building, there is a large, irregularly shaped area labeled 'DOVES MEADOW'. The meadow is depicted with a series of small, cross-shaped symbols, suggesting a grassy or open field. A line points from the text 'Existing Klarjester Location' to a specific point on the site plan. The plan also shows various other features, such as paths, fences, and trees, all rendered in a technical, line-art style. The overall layout is oriented with North at the top, as indicated by the north arrow in the top right corner.
